0900: The Magical Mystery Tour: Podcaster's website ; Underwriter website This week's Magical Mystery Tour features two GREAT talks. The first by Vera de Chalambert, who wrote a brilliant essay after Donald Trump was elected, titled: Kali Takes America: I'm With Her. In that essay and in this passionate and equally brilliant talk Vera talks about Kali, the great Goddess of creation and destruction, the divine feminine and holy darkness, and how they relate to our current state of the nation and the world. The second half of the show features another passionate and brilliant talk by social activist, documentary filmmaker, lawyer and educator Valarie Kaur talking about racism, hatred, violence and what she's learned about revolutionary love in a time of rage. 1900: Peace Talks Radio: The Series on Peacemaking and Nonviolent Conflict Resolution: Podcaster's website ; Underwriter website This time on Peace Talks Radio, a 2006 conversation with Northern Ireland Nobel Peace Prize Laureate Mairead Maguire. Mairead Corrigan Maguire founded the Community of the Peace People in 1976 along with Betty Williams and Ciaran McKeown. Mairead was the aunt of the three Maguire children who were hit by a runaway car after its driver was shot by a soldier. The deaths prompted a series of marches throughout Northern Ireland and further afield, all demanding an end to the violence plaguing her country at the time. Mairead and Betty went on to win the Nobel Peace Prize in 1976. In this program, Maguire recalls her peace work and talks with host Carol Boss about how the principles of nonviolence can be applied to conflicts around the world and in daily life. In part two of the program, previously un-aired Peace Talks Radio conversations about mediation programs for middle school students, a verbal technology called non-violent communication, efforts to institutionalize peace in our governing bodies and the quest for inner peace in a post-9/11 world.
